AWS Marketplace

Xvoucher is now offering SaaS subscriptions directly through the AWS Marketplace.

Xvoucher's widely-used skills development platform enables your learners to develop critical cloud skills and prepare for certification while providing you with comprehensive insights into their progress.

SaaS Subscriptions include:

- 12 month administrator license to the Xvoucher skill development platform
- Combination of flex seats to meet your learners' certification needs
- Simplified flex seat model does not require the administrator to select specific certification paths for their learners
- Easy distribution tool to assign flex seats to learners
- Detailed learner activity monitoring

Flex Seat Packages:

Seat packages have a combination of flex seats for AWS Foundational, Associate, and Professional level certification paths. Each flex seat user can choose the titles that best fit their certification journey.

- 1 year subscription to an award-winning practice exam from CyberVista
 - Learners have access to a robust LMS with detailed questions, answers, explanations, and references.
 - Learners choose the practice test title that best fits their certification journey.
- 1 year subscription to the Ultimate Training Package from Digital Cloud Training
 - Video-based e-learning content, a practice exam, and an e-book are designed to help users pass their AWS Certification exams.
- Access to an AWS Certification exam
 - Learners choose what level of exam they would like to take as well as the testing provider.

Please note: Product specific purchases are not available on the AWS Marketplace. See the Xvoucher Storefront for AWS to complete a product purchase.
